Syllabus for Research Postgraduate Courses

RECO6022 Research Seminar II

This course aims to familiarize students with academic rigor and to foster an appreciation of the many different means of carrying out research that exist. Key issues include the development of aims and objectives of the proposed research, determination and justification of a suitable research methodology, and deciding on a practical program for the execution of the research project. Students are required to give research seminar presentations of their work as they progress.

Note: Students are required to complete this course by the end of the probationary period.
